Hello,

I am writing in article for AmmoLand News and under deadline. The AFP have been marking accurate articles on firearms as false. For example any article the talks about Kamala Harris's amicus brief in the Heller SCOTUS case is being marked as false, yet these articles are easily verifiable. This leads me to my question.

Why does Facebook allow the AFP to keep marking articles as false when a quick Google search would turn up the amicus brief?

Attached are some examples

Thank you,
John Crump

ADDITIONAL REPORTING

AFP United States Fact-Check

Kamala Harris does not oppose gun ownership or the Second Amendment

To fight false news, Facebook reduces the distribution of misleading content while also showing additional reporting on the same topic.

Pages and websites that repeatedly publish or share misleading content will see their overall distribution reduced, their ability to monetize and advertise removed, and their ability to register as a news Page removed. People will also be able to see if a Page has a history of sharing false news.

Deleting the misleading content won't affect these outcomes
